CITY AND VICINITY.

Wheat 50 cents.

John Hietje is building a new residence on Eleventh street.

Born to Rev. and Mrs. H. Harmeling, Alto, Wis., Sept. 14—a daughter.

Cook & Whitby's circus will be the next attraction in this city. They are billed for Oct. 5.

J. Lanning of Drenthe has bought out the stock of G. Smeenge, in the First ward, and will continue the business at the old stand.

A. J. Ward's foreman, Mr. Russell, of Flint, has arrived upon the ground and taken charge of the work upon Ed. Vaupell's new brick store.

Rev. Wm. A. Beardslee, pastor of the Ref. church at Yonkers, N. Y., and son of Prof. J. W. Beardslee of this city, has been obliged by reason of ill-health, to resign his charge.

The city of Pittsburg, it is said, does not impose any tax on machinery in use in manufacturing. Only the buildings and land are taxed. This is a partial recognition of the single tax doctrine.

The house and lot on the corner of Twelfth and Market streets, formerly the residence of Mrs. R. Schouten, has been sold by G. Van Ark to Albert Meyer, who in due time will build him a fine residence there.

Miss McKay having returned from her trip east, desires to announce to her pupils and others that her fall term in music begins Sept. 22. She will be pleased to see all her old pupils and as many others as possible.

Congressman Richardson has positively declined a re-nomination. Ill-health is assigned as the sole reason. It's up-hill work for the Democrats to find an acceptable candidate that will accept. This being the case, the nomination will likely be "tendered" to a non-resident of Grand Rapids.

The steamboat excursion of the A. O. U. W. to Chicago, on Monday, was largely attended. A special train of four coaches, well filled, came from Grand Rapids, landing its passengers at Central Wharf. They embarked on the City of Holland, which left for the Cream City at 1:00 P. M., and returned on Wednesday morning.

The Republican Congressional committee of this district organized Monday by electing Col. L. K. Bishop chairman, and appointing the following executive committee: Geo. Clapperson of Grand Rapids, J. B. Watson of Coopersville, and Wm. Fitzgibbon of Saranac. The selection of a secretary was left to the executive committee.

Elisha H. Becker, son of Mr. C. P. Becker of this city, died in Chicago, Sunday evening, aged 35 years. He had to submit to an operation on the intestines, which proved fatal, by reason of blood poisoning setting in. The remains were brought to this city for interment, the funeral taking place Wednesday afternoon, from the Third Ref. church, Rev. J. Van Houte officiating.

At the annual M. E. Conference held in Jackson this week, the following appointments were made for the ensuing year:

Berlin and Lamont—W. S. Bronnel.
Coopersville—J. H. Bennett.
Grand Haven—L. W. Calkins.
Holland—C. A. Jakobs.
Robinson—J. M. Wright.
Spring Lake—R. N. Middleton.
Allegan—J. B. Peatling.
Fennville—L. P. Richtmyer.
Saugatuck—A. J. Morris.

A small party of veterans of the 25th Mich. Infy. from this city and friends went to Clyde, Allegan county, the forepart of the week, for the purpose of making a short visit with their old comrade Thomas Hauer, of the same regiment. Arriving there after a two and a half hours ride they found "Tom" in rather poor health, but after a hearty hand shake, such as only old veterans can give, and a general army talk, his drooping spirit soon revived. The party left again at three o'clock p. m., having first enjoyed a bountiful dinner, prepared by Tom's "better half." Comrade Hauer has been a veritable soldier, having served four years in the German army before coming to this country. Strange how the tide in the affairs of men will run in opposite directions. During his service in the German army Mr. Hauer was called upon to oppose Gen. Seigel, and in this country both enlisted for the same cause and under the same flag. Tom always enjoyed "a vite mite Seigel." The party that went from here were B. Van Raalte, J. Kramer, N. Erskine, C. Blom, and J. C. Holmes.

Cool nights

Dr. J. B. McNett of Grand Haven has sold his horse "Crepe" to a lady in Kalamazoo.

Muskegon has an ordinance regulating merchants who come to town for a short time only.

The Democratic senatorial convention for this district will be held at Grand Haven on Friday, the 28th inst.

The man who is not in love with his town, and will not speak a good word in its behalf, is not worthy of living in it.

It is against the law to allow Russian thistles to go to seed, and they should be eradicated as fast as they appear.

The notorious Willie C. P. Breckinridge of Kentucky, has been defeated at the primaries for a re-nomination to congress.

It is a matter of congratulation all around that our furniture factories are so crowded with orders that they have to run extra hours.

Kalamazoo has been enjoined by the courts from purchasing an electric light plant. It is the same old story—irregularities in the proceedings.

Rev. C. A. Jakobs has returned from the annual conference at Jackson and services will be held at the M. E. church next Sunday at the usual hours.

Five years work has been necessary to subdue and train Jupiter, the Equestrian Lion, to be seen only at the Cook & Whitby Circus at Holland, Oct. 5.

List of letters advertised for the week ending Sept. 20, '94, at the Holland post-office: Harry A. Dodge, J. S. Emmet, Miss Ella J. Stobo.
G. J. VAN DUREN, P. M.

The only absolute feature presented by any show on earth will be seen at Cook & Whitby's exhibition at Holland, Oct. 5: The Riding Lion Jupiter. Do not fail to see him.

Geo. Naughton, who met with the sad accident resulting in the amputation of his foot, as mentioned in the last issue of the News, died Saturday morning. His remains were taken to Saugatuck, his home, for burial.

From the consolidated school reports it appears that Ottawa county has 130 school houses, of which 2 are stone, 22 brick and 103 frame; also 92 graded and 104 ungraded schools; and 54 male and 193 female teachers. The average monthly wages are 49.45 for men and $30.61 for women.

C. M. Steffens, of the senior class of the Western Theol. Seminary here, has been tendered the position of president of Pleasant Prairie College. This is a new institution, established at German Valley, Ridott county, Ill., about 100 miles from Chicago, under the auspices of the Pleasant Valley classis of the Reformed church. It already boasts of a fine three-story building, costing $8,000, erected on a beautiful site covering eight acres of ground. This building was dedicated last week, on which occasion Mr. Steffens was present and delivered the address, in the German language. Among the corps of teachers this year we find the name of Miss Fannie A. Steffens of this city, who will give instruction in English, natural sciences and mathematics. We take this occasion to congratulate our young friend upon so marked a distinction, and while the task, in case he concludes to accept, will be a responsible one, we have every reason to believe he will prove equal to its demands.

The remains of Sarah Cappon arrived from Chicago Saturday morning, and were conveyed to the old home. She died on Friday morning, several hours after the operation, to which she had submitted for relief from nervous affection, had been performed with apparent success, when a sudden re-action set in, from which she rallied once slightly, sufficient only to recognize her father. The funeral took place Monday afternoon from the Third Ref. church, Revs. H. E. Dosker and H. G. Birchby officiating. Her former pastor, Rev. Dosker, paid a fitting tribute to the christian character of the departed, imparting also the information that it was her intention, upon her recovery, to devote her life to the cause of her Savior. Messrs. G. H. Dubbink, K. Prakken, El. Diekema, C. M. Steffens, Diek Te Roller and J. Mersen acted as pallbearers. A group of her intimate friends, members of the Y. W. C. A., and a large number of the employees of the C. & B. Leather Co., served as escort.

Roller skating at the rink this (Friday) and Saturday evenings.

There will be services at the Ventura M. E. church next Sunday, at 2:30 p. m., by Rev. C. A. Jakobs.

Chicago's O'Leary cow died some time ago. Mrs. O'Leary is still living, but her husband, Patrick, had his wake celebrated last Sunday night. The story of the Chicago fire, Oct. 9, 1871, simultaneous with that of our own city, can never be told without due reference to Mr. and Mrs. O'Leary and their cow. Patrick himself died suddenly, on his own threshold, about 6 o'clock Saturday evening. He was 75 years old, but still hale and hearty for a man of that age. He had been down-town, stepped off the car in front of his home, and fell on the stoop. His children came out and found him. He was still breathing but unable to speak. They carried him into the house, but he was dead before they placed him on the couch. In this way went out the life of a man whose personal history is as inseparable from that of Chicago as any part of the history of the great fire of 1871. He lived at No. 137 De Koven street, during the eventful night of Oct. 9, 1871, and the fire that destroyed Chicago was started in the cow shed in the rear of his home. The family cow was being milked, and, becoming restless, kicked over the lamp which was furnishing the light for the operation. In a moment the flames wrapped the building, and everybody knows the rest. O'Leary was of fine old Irish stock. Mrs. O'Leary is 76 years old and quite feeble. They were both very sensitive about the incident of the great fire with which they were connected, refusing steadfastly to discuss it with any one.

It Met with Success.

THE TENTH ANNUAL FAIR.

Much was at stake.

The continuance of the fair as a permanent institution, the very life lease of the South Ottawa and West Allegan Agricultural Society—it might as well be admitted, depended largely on this year's efforts. Whether or not the Tenth fair was to be the last, was a problem confronting the original projectors and faithful supporters of the Society, and as the books are being balanced and an account of the stock taken, all feel satisfied and encouraged. True, it required incessant and laborious efforts on the part of the officials, but what of that, so long they enjoy the satisfaction of having contributed to the perpetuity of a most useful institution. For, once within a period covering the last four or five years the elements favored us, and this undoubtedly helped to fill up the measure of success. With the exception of Friday's rain the weather was delightful.

The premium list this year gave to stallions only a diploma, instead of the usual money award. The effect of this was that there were no stallions, and hence the horse exhibit was less than usual. However there was a lot of fine roadsters.

A creditable display in the way of implements was that made by H. De Krulff, Jr., of Zeeland. He had on the grounds a full line of cultivators, seed drills, plows, hay rakes, harrows, wagons, and carriages. J. Fielemans also had an exhibit of lumber wagons, of his own manufacture.

Among the leading cattle exhibitors were Thos. Watson of Olive, Durhams; Gardner Avery, of Jamestown, Jerseys; and John De Witt of Fillmore, holsteins. In this department 21 first premiums and 7 second premiums were awarded.

"Zeeland Poultry Association." This concern took the lead in the poultry dept., and had 41 pair on exhibition. Other exhibitors were Ed. Scott, Willie Kremers, Walter Van der Haar, and J. Kooyers. The facilities this year in the new building were better than ever before, and hence the display was also correspondingly better.

In swine M. Van Zoeren of Vriesland, G. Wabeke of Zeeland, J. Van Vorst of Holland, and J. Op't Holt of Drenthe were leading exhibitors, and in sheep B. Van Raalte and Will Van der Veere, of Holland, and M. Veldhuis of Overisel. The new pens in this dept. are a decisive improvement, and helped to make the exhibits so much more satisfactory.

Owing to the re-arrangement in the buildings, for the benefit of our local manufacturers, the flowers, fruit and agricultural products were all crowded into Pomological Hall, and had a tendency to lessen the entries, but what there was was very good. The floral display of Cha's Dutton in cut flowers plants and foliage plants was elegant, and among the amateur exhibitors Mrs. J. C. Post, Mrs. Dr. H. Kremers and Jac. Van Dyke took first rank.

The largest exhibitors in fruit were: Auke Bosman, grapes; T. S. Purdy, pears; and Geo. H. Souter, peaches. Owing to the dry season the latter display was small, but this was made up by apples, of which there were many plates.

Mrs. B. Van Raalte, Mrs. J. C. Post and Miss Hattie Ten Have helped to make the collection of canned fruits and jellies the finest that was ever seen at the fair.

Geo. H. Souter, Jr.'s collection of native nuts was very complete. It comprised peanuts, chestnuts, butternuts, walnuts, filberts, acorns and beechnuts.

The continued draught had operated most unfavorable on garden truck.

The Blue and the Gray.

Peace has its victories, as well as war, and while during the late unpleasantness between the States the Blue came out victor, the Gray has scored a triumph at the recent National encampment of the G. A. R., of which it may well feel proud. The contest for the annual encampment in 1895 laid between the cities of St. Paul and Louisville. The citizens of the latter metropolis had delegated Henry Watterson, editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal and a late Colonel in the Confederate army, to present its claims, and so powerfully, patriotically and patriotically did he present his case, that St. Paul hardly knew it was in it. His plea was as follows:

I have come here today—an undoubting American—today at the feet of American manhood the tribute of respectful homage. I have come—a willing witness—to bear testimony to the genius of American soldiership. I have come with a message from your countrymen who dwell on what was the nether side of the line, but whose hearts beat in ready response to your hearts and, who bid me tell you they want to see you.

Candor compels me to say that there was a time when I did not want to see you. There was a time when—without any invitation whatever—either written or verbal—without so much as a suggestion of welcome—you insisted upon giving us the honor of your company, and, it turned out, when we were but ill-prepared to receive you. [Laughter and applause.] It was a pity, now, that we are prepared, now that the lid is off the pot and that the latch-string hangs outside the door, you should refuse us the happiness of entertaining you, of greeting you, not—

With bloody hands to hospitably graves, but as friends and brothers, as fellow-citizens, who learned how to value one another amid scenes that left no time or room for equivocation and transactions applying to human virtue the very highest tests. I know that, whatever your decision may be, you will give me credit for entire sincerity when I add that I was never happier in my life than I am in finding myself a vehicle for such a communication—the spokesman from such men to such men—the first of many voices to be raised, in good will and good faith, entreating the Grand Army of the Republic to come South, to bring its knitting, and to stay all day! [Applause.]

You will find there much to exhilarate you. You will find there, as nowhere else in such measure, the most absolute obliteration of all that we want to forget, the most absolute preservation of all we want to remember, of days, which in darkness or in light—in sunshine or in sorrow—must remain forever sacred to each and every one of us. You will find there engaged in business rivalry, men who fought side by side in the imminent, deadly breach; engaged in equal partnership, men who were introduced to one another out of the mouths of hostile cannon. You will find there wearing the same uniforms and exchanging kindred countersigns, men who, in moments of conviviality, sometimes forget on which side they fought in the war of the sections, happy in a comradeship never to end this side of the grave. [Great applause.]

You will find there a valorous little army of embryo heroes, who have somehow got so mixed up in their cradles, that no one of them can tell which grandpa it was that wore the blue and which that wore the gray, but who can tell their determination to lick all creation when they get big enough to wear the cross-swords that hang on the wall in silent proof that they came from good fighting stock. And finally, you will find there the warmest and the most universal welcome—a welcome from all hearts and all hands—a welcome from men and women who know how to welcome, and who are none the less American because they happen to be Kentuckians!

But, believe me, I speak in no local interest, in no sectional spirit. The purpose which brought me here, the thought and hope of those who sent me, is wholly, purely national. We, like you, love our country. Our dearest aspiration is to see it great and strong. It has weathered all the dangers that, in times past, assailed feudal systems and dynasties. It has weathered all the dangers that sprang from the peculiar conditions of our being, the dark shadow of slavery and the baleful menace of disunion, the conflict of jurisdiction between the state and the federal power, and the confusion attendant upon disputed interpretations of the organic law.

The issues that made a war of sections possible have passed away. They can never be resurrected. But every age, as every individual, has its own problems to solve, its own crosses to bear, and those who are to come after us—who have already arrived upon the scene—will need to meet as we have met, the responsibilities of life. That they will meet them bravely, nobly, I do believe; for I have faith not merely in them as our children, but in the destiny of American institutions. Yet we must help them all we can; and we can help them in nothing so much as in impressing upon them the lessons of patriotism and manhood, which came to us out of the sturdy school of war. [Applause.]

No man who was a good soldier could be a bad citizen. Every good soldier, no matter where he fought, must have learned that humanity and courage are virtues common to our race, limited by no geographical division, monopolized by no section. What ever regrets may linger in any bosom, no one of us has any reason to blush for the events of the greatest combat known to human annals. There was never a war where there was so little of public wrong, so much of private generosity; never a war whose verdict so decisive, whose consequences have been so beneficent. [Applause.]

The best heritage that we can leave to those, into whose hands we must ere long commit the future, is this good knowledge, that what differences exist upon the territory embraced by the United States, vast as it is, are purely local and external; that Massachusetts and Mississippi are, in reality, convertible terms; and that it needs but ten days and a change of raincoat to convert a typical Vermonter into a typical Texan. I declare this as the sum of my own observation and experience, as the result of great and varied opportunities for viewing and studying the character of our people from ocean to ocean—I declare it simply, earnestly, and I shall maintain it always. Should anyone ask you whether I believe it, I beg you to tell him I know it and have put it to a test and proven many and many a time. Upon it I rest the case of the nation against its bigots. If the future is to be as glorious as the past, it must be universally realized and conceded, illustrated by common consent and association, illumined by a nationality, going back for its aspirations to Bunker Hill and Yorktown, and taking up the old, sweet song, where the fathers left it off, precisely as if nothing had happened to interrupt it. [Immense applause.]

Its echoes ringing in my ears, I come to you today, with arms wide open. Its hopes singing in my heart, I beg you to come to us, with your arms wide open. Thank God, the flag you will find there is our flag as well as your flag—the flag of a reunited people and a glorious republic—to free men all over the world at once a symbol and a pledge—

Oh, long may it wave,
Over the land of the free and the home of the brave!

Our Country Schools.

TO THE DISTRICT BOARDS:
The demand for good experienced teachers is an indication that school officers are recognizing the fact that poor teachers are dear at any price. The conductors at the late institute spoke highly of the ability and enthusiasm of our teachers, and I feel that they are, as a whole, an earnest class of workers and the equal of any class of teachers in the state. Yet, there are a few teachers in the ranks who are not progressive, not interested in the work, and are simply performing the duties to draw their wages. Our teachers are unusually well paid, and they should in return give their time and interest.

Would it not be a good plan for school officers not to employ dull teachers—those, "rutty" in the extreme. It happens that certain parts of the county have a scarcity of good teachers. We have surplus teachers and if you do not find such a teacher as you wish, write me and I will do all I can to help you find one.

Young teachers are apt to overlook important things. School officers should not hesitate to advise with them, and by so doing help them to succeed.

It is a bad plan to engage a young teacher to teach where he or she has attended school. It is a bad plan to engage a teacher who is not an example of manhood or womanhood.

A teacher has no more right to chew tobacco in the school-room than a pupil has to chew gum. When we remember, that children between the ages of six and sixteen pass a large portion of their time at school, and when we consider the impressions made at these ages, we feel that the future welfare of our country depends on these school influences.

A teacher has no right to spend his evenings in such a manner that will make him unfit for the work next day. School boards, would it not be well to look after this?

During the past year your improvement in the case of school property is very marked. The grounds and out-building have received attention. Old, disgraceful buildings have been replaced by new ones. There is a need of attention yet. The buildings should be cleaned, freed from defacements, and kept so. Please let me urge the necessity of this upon you.

Nearly every school in the county is supplied with some kind of a dictionary. In buying a dictionary, you will find the best the cheapest. Don't buy a poorly bound, nor a re-print.

Webster's International Indexed can be had for $9.50.

Nothing is more important than plenty of good black-board. The best is slate, and the cheapest in the end, but better have plenty of inferior boards than a small amount of slate-boards. Cloth maps hung on the wall are better than sets of maps. Every school house should have a globe, and a map of the United States, and of Michigan on its walls.

As the law makes it the duty of the school board to adopt text books in order to secure better uniformity, I recommend the following: Harper's and Robinson's Arithmetics, Swinton's Grammar, Long's Language Lessons, Barnes' History, Pattengill's State Civil Government, Andrew's Manual of the Constitution, Bailey's Mental Arithmetic, Harrington's Speller, and Steele's or Martin's Physiology. When a district board has adopted text books they should insist that the teachers use them, and not allow the introduction of others.

A classification record has been placed in every school of the county but two. They are used in every county in the lower peninsula and give excellent satisfaction. The manual which it contains is a great help to teachers wherever used as indicated. We have however some teachers who do not use any system of classification, and such generally do poor work.

Cannot you as a board with the aid of your teachers, do something to lay the foundation for a good library in your district. If it be but a few volumes? Talk it over together. See if you cannot average for a social, or some kind of an entertainment in the near future, so that you can place before that hungry boy and girl something for him to read, something up on which to feed his soul.

In the country schools rests our future history, our reputation as a nation, and our hope. They produce our statesmen, our financiers, and moral heroes, and, our teachers. Would it not be well then to urge that commissioner, district boards, teachers, and parents do their best in everything that will tend to make our schools a success?

I trust there may continue to exist between us that same freedom, relative to school matters, that existed last year, and that the close of the year will find the schools of Ottawa county in much better condition than now.

The following are some schools and teachers not reported last week.

PERFECT CONSTITUTIONAL POWERS.

Its extraordinary curative power, manifests itself almost immediately it is taken. On this point the evidence of those who have taken it is uniform and positive. They say they can feel the effect of every dose doing them good. It is a powerful nerve invigorating tonic, imparting its restorative influence through the medium of the nervous system to every organ and tissue of the body. It makes but little difference whether the constitutional vigor has been undermined by acute disease, overwork, or certain miscellaneous indiscretions; or whether the broken down condition is called by one name or other, so long as there is nervous exhaustion, general or local weakness—so long as enervation and debility are the type of the ailment, this is the remedy.

THOSE WHO SUFFER

from the results of over-mental or physical exertion, hereditary exposure, hidden drins, excretion, or who have brought upon themselves a series of "millions" by temporarily or vitally violating nature's laws, will find in CATON'S VITALIZER and NERVE TONIC the remedy for their certain relief. It is a really new and all evidence of progressive physical deterioration, as it restores the "feebled energies to their natural vigor."

BAY CITY, Sept. 14.—The annual convention of the State Bankers' association opened in the Grand opera house Wednesday afternoon. After the address of welcome by Thomas Cranage, of Bay City, and the response by George H. Russell, of Detroit, the president, Spencer O. Fisher, democratic candidate for governor, gave his annual address. Detroit was chosen as the next place of meeting. On Thursday Comptroller of the Currency Eckels addressed the association on the subject of the currency and the financial upheavals of 1893. He congratulated the citizens of Michigan upon the fact that despite the panic of the last year, the unprecedented withdrawal of deposits, the continued depression of business and the almost complete cessation of manufacturing industries, but four of their state banking institutions had proved unable to maintain their solvency, which was a striking testimony to the wisdom of conducting banking operations upon safe principles and along legitimate lines.

Ex-Postmaster General Don M. Dickinson addressed the convention, and papers on important topics of especial interest to the bankers were read by Frederick B. Hayes, president of the Preston national bank of Detroit; George B. Caldwell, national bank examiner; Charles D. Stewart, of Owosso; W. R. Burt, of Saginaw; State Superintendent of Banks, T. C. Sherwood, and others.

The following officers were elected, after which the convention adjourned sine die:

In the number of prosecutions the lesser crimes rank first. The number of persons prosecuted under the general head of disorderly were 10,929, or nearly one-half of the total number of prosecutions.

Of the total number of cases prosecuted Wayne county furnished 7,570; Ingham, 954; St. Clair, 749; Saginaw, 721; Gogebic, 683; Eaton, 638; Jackson, 632; Kent, 629, and Bay, 624.

The usual collection of vegetables, by Westerhof, was missing this year. And yet there were a good many attractions in this dept: a Mexican banana musk melon, a sack of fine German soup beans, some luxurious celery, large lettuce and cabbage heads, etc. But as a whole it did not come up to other years.

Art Hall never appeared to better advantage than it did this year. Not that it was crowded by an abundance of entries, but the nature and quality of the articles shown was superior. Take for instance the collection of small and large birds and animals of Arthur G. Baumgartel, the young taxidermist. This of itself was enough to constitute the nucleus for a museum. Then there were also the collection of paintings by Miss Chrissy Van Duren, P. Swart, Ralph Schepers and others, the collection of old books and antiquities, the carved clock frame by Peter Verplanke, and the elegant herbarium of Paul R. Coster, etc., all of which were worthy of any exhibition.

At a late hour a change was made in the Woman's department and Mrs. L. T. Kanter placed in charge thereof. Though not numerous, there were some elegant specimens of women's handiwork, entered by Miss Minnie Hunt, Mrs. W. H. Beach, the Misses Van der Veen, Mrs. Dr. W. Van den Berg and several others.

The Children's department is growing in favor and general interest, and among the entries there were some noteworthy exhibits, embracing flowers, penmanship, drawing, needle work, boats, stamp collections, and the like.

The following merchants had taken space in Art Hall and made creditable displays:

Will Botsford & Co., groceries.
E. Van der Veen, hardware.
H. Van Tongeren, cigars.
H. Meyer & Son, pianos and organs.
Mrs. M. Bertsch, millinery.
Bertsch's Studio, photography.
Ed. Vaupell, saddlery and trunks.
HOLLAND CITY NEWS, job press in operation.
Ottawa County Times, specimens of job printing.

The decorations in the rotunda were the work of C. L. Streng & Son and gave a graceful finishing touch to the interior of the hall.

The special efforts of the Fair officials to have the various manufacturing interests within the territorial jurisdiction of the society this year fully represented, met with partial success. The entire space in Manufacturers' Hall had been allotted, but at the last hour some failed to respond. On the part of those that were there pains had been taken to meet the object for which the hall had been set aside. There were:

and jams were prepared on the ground and served hot by an efficient set of lady waiters.

Wierenga & Van Hees of Zeeland, furniture. They made a specialty of a new device, an attachment to a bedstead, called the "sleeper's guard."

The West Michigan Furniture Co. had a bedroom suite complete, imitation of mahogany, which showed elegant workmanship.

C. L. King & Co. was second to none in their display of baskets and veneer work. It was a study to note what all is not made at this extensive plant.

J. & A. Van Putten. The pyramids of barrels and tubs displayed by this firm gave a fair idea of the extent of their business.

Paul Steketee, crockery.

J. Nies, stoves.

2:40 Class—Maggie T, owned by John Albers; Crepe McNett, by Dr. J. B. McNett; Lawyer, by Geo. Crawford; Boony, by Boone & Joslin.

Among the visitors from abroad that were conspicuous on the grounds, we note D. C. Henderson of Allegan, Representative C. K. Hoyt and postmaster Waite of Hudsonville; Senator Brundage of Muskegon; Enno Pruim of Spring Lake; register of deeds Cha's H. Clark, county clerk Geo. D. Turner, judge of probate J. V. B. Goodrich, county treasurer Pelgrim, M. Armistead, H. Sprik, J. Niemyer, G. W. A. Smith, H. T. Root, and D. Vyn of Grand Haven; Dud O. Watson of Coopersville; L. M. Weston, J. Danhof and Geo. W. Thompson of Grand Rapids; and M. Williams of Bay City. And to these should be added the Hon. S. Q. Fisher, Democratic candidate for Governor.

Mr. Fisher arrived on the morning train, accompanied by some of the gentlemen above named, and was cordially received by several of the representative men of "the faithful" in Holland. After a drive through the city he was conveyed to the fair grounds, shown the sights, and introduced by president Van Hees to an audience that had collected at the grand stand. Mr. Fisher individually made a very favorable impression, more so than his address, which he preferred to make a political one. He was glad to meet the pioneers of this locality, and was proud of the German blood that flowed in his own veins. He understood that he was at liberty to talk politics, and was also aware that there existed some objection to do so on an occasion like this, but it is inevitable when you invite a candidate. I am a plain business man and will talk very plain to you. The tariff and the currency are the main questions of the day. The former is practically settled for the present, I hope. Although a lumberman, still, while in Congress I advocated free lumber, and for this I was defeated when I ran for the third time. I am also for free wool, and no doubt many of you do not agree with me on this. The speaker also declared himself in favor of free silver, and charged that the mortgages on the farms were largely owing to the demonization of silver in 1873. (Two years ago, remember, they told us it was due to the tariff.) An income tax met his approval. Referring to State matters, our railroad taxation was all wrong, and Gov. Rich was charged with being the railroad candidate and wearing their collar. Mr. Fisher received respectful attention, but somehow or other his speech did not take. It fell flat. The environments were not favorable for a political address.

The baby show on Wednesday had nine entries; they were all from the city, except the twins, who hailed from Central Park. The record shows the following: Mrs. Wm. Por, Willie, 4 months; Mrs. A. Bagroo, Martha and Martin, 7 weeks; Mrs. F. Smith, Dora, 10; months; Mrs. T. Ellingsen, Louise, 8 months; Mrs. J. S. Doyle, Julia, 6 months; Mrs. B. A. Mulder, Jeannette, 8 months; Mrs. Cha's Grant, Cornelius, 11 months; and Mrs. Leroy Heath, Albert, 3 months. The judges were president Van Hees, Dr. Oscar Baert, and Gerrit Van den Beldt, and they awarded the prizes to Albert Heath and Julia Doyle, and their father and mother respectively. These prizes were formally presented to the latter on Thursday afternoon, at the grand stand, by secretary Kerkhof, just before the calling of the races. They consist in a deed of a lot in Waverly to the father of the little boy and also to the mother of the little girl, and to the babies each a Holland City State Bank savings book for a deposit of $5.00. The consideration in the deed reads "that said second party is the mother (or father) of the handsomest girl (or boy) baby in Ottawa county, as decided by competent judges at the Holland fair of 1894." The grantors in the deed are John C. Post and Kate G. Post, and the witnesses are F. C. Hall, mayor of Waverly and Justice Geo. E. Kollen. At the close of the presentation three cheers were given by the audience for the babies, and three more for the donors.

The public schools were closed on Thursday, so as to enable the children to go to the fair.

A few accidents, none of them serious, are to be noted: Harlan Joslin, the veteran race course driver, while speeding his horse on Tuesday, tipped over sideways, cart and all. The nine-year old boy of Ed. Vaupell was kicked by a horse and received a small cut near the eye. An overgrown booby had his eye discolored. And lastly, a fox, who was caged up in the poultry house, managed to get out the first night of the fair and helped himself to a pair of doves.

The donkey of Master De Kruif, that done service on the "Street of Cairo" at the World's fair, was quite a favorite among the little folks.

The general improvement of the grounds and the re-arrangement of some of the buildings met with universal approval.

A very encouraging feature for the association is that with this year all the ten-year tickets that were issued at the time of organization have expired. Henceforth these "greedy monopolists"—to use a Populist term—can pay the same as the rest of us.

Art Hall owed much of its attractiveness to the taste and labors of the pupils of the high school, who had devoted their holiday on Saturday last to trimming the interior with evergreens.

The central music stand in Art Hall was occupied a part of the time by the Apollo Club of this city, and their music was well received.

It is to be regretted that there wasn't a single "essay on patriotism," for which the donor, Mr. C. Van Loo of Zeeland had sent in a copy of that beautiful work, Coffin's Life of Lincoln.

One of the judges on cattle, was Mr. F. C. Bobbitt of South Bend, Ind., brother-in-law of superintendent Ja's H. Purdy.

The new entrance for teams, and drive-way, added greatly to the safety and convenience of the pedestrians.

The number of stands and booths was much larger than usual, and all seem to have made out well.

System and good order were maintained throughout, notwithstanding the immense throng, on Thursday.

The total entries is close on to 1,500.

The attendance on Thursday cannot have been less than 8,000.

Thursday forenoon the Zeeland Baseball Club played a matched game with a picked-up nine from this city and came out more than victors.

Several veterans from Allegan, on their way home from the Soldiers and Sailors' re-union at Saugatuck, stopped over on Thursday and took in the fair.

The steamer Music plied between here and Saugatuck during the week for the benefit of those that desired to attend from there.

The strains of Thomas' Cornet Band aided largely in relieving the tension of the mind during the exciting heats on Thursday's races.

It was not only a novelty, but also an enjoyment to our citizens and to the patrons of the fair to have the Grand Rapids Evening Press Newsboys Band come down on Thursday and play for them. This organization is 36 pieces strong, under the tutelage of Prof. Cormany. Some of the juveniles of the organization are only nine years old. Considering that he has had them under his training only five months, and that some of them were picked up from the street as it were; and further considering the proficiency they have made, the class of music they render, their appearance and manly deportment, we feel impelled to extend both to Prof. Cormany and to his band of juveniles our most hearty commendation.

In the absence of the regularly appointed marshal John D. Everhard, whose business relations prevented him from officiating, the onerous duties connected with the position were satisfactorily discharged by Allie Van Raalte.

Special Announcement.

We take great pleasure in being able to announce to you the completion of the extensive remodeling and increase of capacity that our mill has been undergoing during the past two months.

During the period named we have used our best efforts to supply our regular trade, but were hampered by conditions beyond our control, and wish now to ask to accept apologies for any delays or shortcomings that may have occurred in the filling of orders and we wish also to give our assurance that it was never through inattention that an order suffered, but only through the unavoidable force of existing conditions.

With added facilities in an enlarged plant of the most modern type, we ask the continued favors of all our old trade and will also be glad to add to our list of customers, believing that none will have any reason to regret entrusting us with their business.

Yours very truly,

The Library Board has recommended to the Common Council that the appropriation for the public library this year be raised to $300. We hope the city fathers will see their way clear to comply with this recommendation. There is no public money invested or expended in this city that brings better revenue than our public library. It is now on a good, permanent footing and appreciated and utilized by a large part of our population. Besides, as Holland increases in size our public library should be made to keep pace.

Thursday morning early the body of a dead man was found about eighty rods north of North Holland station, on the C. & W. M. railroad track, near the fence, adjacent to the land of Dick Smith, by whom it was first noticed. In what manner he came to his death we failed to learn. An inquest was held by Justice Mountford. He was recognized by the wife of a farmer in that vicinity as having called there the day before for something to eat, and had told her he had a wife and child in Chicago. His name was not known.

ORCHARDS IN WINTER.

Protect the Trees from Rabbits, Mice and Other Depredators.

Now is the time of danger to young orchards while the snow is on and the green grass is out of reach of the rabbits which must eat to live, and in lieu of that which they may relish better will take the bark from the apple or other fruit trees. Wrapping the trees in the orchard with thick paper will be as easily and quickly done as any other method. Semi-pruning and letting the limbs lie around affords protection as the rabbits prefer the scions to the main stalk of the tree. The mice, too, often do great damage under the snow if much rubbish is left about the roots of the tree under which they can harbor. Small trees are often entirely barked around close to the ground. It is safest to clear away the trash and bank up a little with dirt in the fall. A remedy in the spring, if discovered early enough, is to bank fresh soil around where the bark has been removed, before the wood has dried too much, and new bark will take the place of the old. This may be done where the rabbits have gnawed, unless too high up on the trunk, which it is liable to be where the snow has drifted about the trees and which enables the rabbits sometimes to get among the branches. The winter has started in with great severity and it will be well to afford as much protection to the small fruits, especially the vineyards which can be laid down and covered. To many things in the vegetable kingdom the snow, and plenty of it, is of supreme importance if it only keeps the ground amply covered until the April showers come to remove it. During these leisure hours the farmers should study the various needs of the different branches of their pursuit by the perusal of the papers and books which come within their reach. This gives them an opportunity of coming in contact with the experiences of others who have given the subjects much thought and scientific investigation.—Western Rural.

EXTRA POLITE.

A French Count Who Could Not Be Outdone in Gallantry.

Frenchmen of the old school did at times tremendously polite things, such as breaking their necks to pick up a lady's fan, or setting fire to a house to dry her when caught in a shower of rain, or running through the body any one who should dare to say that her foot was large or her nose red. In our days Frenchmen are not such idiots, and yet they sometimes do exceedingly foolish things in the polite line. This story, for example, is related of a Count de Lecointeux.

In descending the staircase of the opera one night a lady of his acquaintance had a lace dress of considerable value torn by a man treading on it. After an exclamation of impatience she turned to the count and said: "Have you a pin?" "Madame," he said, "I don't carry a pincushion, but here is one," and he drew from his breast a valuable diamond. "Sir," said the lady, nettled probably by his retort about the pincushion, "I cannot accept a diamond from you." "Well, then," returned he, "here is a pin without a diamond," and breaking off the jewel he threw it out of the window and presented the simple pin.

Surplus of Lawyers.

In 1850 the proportion of lawyers to the male population in this country was one in 494 and in 1880 it was one in 308. The number of lawyers in legislatures has always been greater than their proportion of the population would warrant. In Maine there has been on the average one lawyer for each ten members; in Vermont and Rhode Island, one for each twelve; in Connecticut and in New Hampshire, one in sixteen, and in Massachusetts, one in nine. Of the entire number of United States senators since 1787, 2,098 out of 3,122 have been lawyers. Of the twenty-four presidents of the United States nineteen have been lawyers. Seventeen of the twenty-three vice presidents and 218 of the 232 cabinet officers have been members of the bar.

Climatic Influence on Health.

It cannot be denied that the influence of climate upon health is great, and it is in recognition of this fact that physicians sent patients suffering with pulmonary diseases to great distances for "change of air." But when the sufferer happens to be too poor to act upon the advice his lot is hard indeed. But it is not necessarily hopeless. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery can be had at any drug store, and to it thousands whose cases were considered desperate owe their lives.

Up to a certain point in the progress of Consumption, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a positive remedy. But delay is dangerous with Consumption. In all the conditions that lead to it, the Discovery is the remedy. With severe Hiccoughs or Coughs, Weak Lungs, nothing acts so promptly. Every disease that can be reached through the blood yields to this medicine. The Scrofulous affection of the lungs, called Consumption, is one of them. For this, and for every other form of Scrofula, for all blood-taints and disorders, and all chronic Bronchial, Throat and Lung affections, the Discovery is the only remedy so certain that, once used, it is always in favor.

Can anything else be just as good for you to buy?

Change in Laundry.

We, the undersigned Holland City Laundrymen, are put to the necessity of adopting the "Cash System." With many of our customers, who are prompt in paying monthly, we had no difficulty, but with a large percentage of those running accounts we experience much trouble, and this compels us to make a change.

Beginning with October 1, 1894, we will sell tickets of one dollar, to relieve the making of change, and will punch the ticket as fast as used.

Our delivermen will be instructed to leave no packages unless paid for, or ticket punched. This rule will apply to all.

WENT FOR A SONG.

How a Murdered Detroit's Heir Disposed of His Birthright.

A Nephew of the Late Charles B. Chauvin Said to Have Sold His Interest in the Estate, Worth $125,000, for $2,000.

DISPOSED OF A FORTUNE.

DETROIT, Sept. 11.—What is regarded as a singular event in connection with the death of Charles B. Chauvin, the wealthy Grosse Pointe hermit who was murdered last Sunday, transpired Thursday when a deed was placed upon record, conveying a half interest in the Chauvin real estate from William Trombley to John H. Seitz, of this city. The property is worth probably $125,000 and the stated consideration is $2,000. Trombley is a nephew of the deceased and one of his two natural heirs, there being no will in sight.

The story is that four years ago Trombley, who was then a waiter in a New York hotel and who still resides there, was anxious to borrow some money, and meeting Seitz, who is something of a speculator, arranged that Seitz should pay him a stipulated sum per year, in return for which Trombley executed to Seitz the deed which was filed Thursday, and which by the terms of their agreement became valid on the death of Mr. Chauvin. It is asserted that Seitz carried out his part of the bargain up to the present year, but the later payments have not been made. Mr. Seitz has gone to New York, but his son said that the transaction was a legitimate speculation; that the real consideration exceeded $2,000, and declared that little would have been thought of the matter had it not been for Chauvin's murder.

DETROIT, Sept. 18.—The police have not yet sufficiently investigated the murder of Charles B. Chauvin, and the inquest has been adjourned until September 29. There seems to be no doubt that William and Barnaby Trombley, Chauvin's nephews, will inherit his $250,000 estate, as no will can be found. Barnaby, who was supposed to be dead, suddenly appeared Saturday. He is now living at Roby, Ind., where he has been for several years. The trouble now is to locate William, who was supposed to be within easy reach in New York city. Barnaby went back to Roby Saturday night. He says he has not heard directly from his brother for seventeen years.

MACCABEES MEET.

Proceedings of the Session of the Great Camp at Lansing.

LANSING, Sept. 14.—At Thursday's session of the great camp of Maccabees the constitution was amended so that hereafter the meetings will be held biennially instead of annually and in June instead of September. The amendment making the county instead of the subordinate tent the unit of representation in the great camp was defeated. Officers were elected as follows:

Great commander, N. S. Boynton, Port Huron; lieutenant commander, Thomas Watson, Roscommon; record keeper, Joseph Boughton, Grand Rapids; finance keeper, R. J. Whaley, Flint; medical examiner, Dr. Edward Eaton, Hudson; chaplain, Henry W. Carey, Manistee; sergeant, Ashley Nobley, Detroit; master-at-arms, W. K. Gustin, Alpena; first master of the guard, W. S. Kinsel, Alpena; second master of the guard, Edwin Boyce, Sault Ste. Marie; sentinel, A. H. Lowrie, St. Louis; picket, George C. Ray, Bay City.

LANSING, Sept. 15.—The three days' session of the Knights and Ladies of Maccabees of Michigan ended Friday evening. The next meeting will be held in Saginaw in June, 1896. It was decided to print the ritual in the French language. Mrs. Lillian M. Hollister, of Detroit, was elected great commander of the ladies' branch of the organization.

A Friend Captured.

ROGERS CITY, Sept. 19.—About noon Tuesday while the 9-year-old daughter of Thomas Mayefski, of the township of Posen, near here, was walking along the highway in company with a younger brother she was attacked, dragged into a wood, and criminally assaulted by a young man aged 18 years, the nephew of J. C. Nichols, of the township of Crapo, adjoining. About 3 o'clock the assailant was caught and taken before Justice Vincent, of Posen, where he was fully identified by the girl and her brother.

The Iron Output.

ISHPEMING, Sept. 19.—The production of iron ore by the five ranges of the Lake Superior district for the current season will reach almost or quite 7,500,000 tons. This estimate is larger than any published this year, and figures as low as 6,000,000 tons have been given this month, while 5,000,000 tons was the mark set at the opening of navigation by some ultra-conservative authorities.

Bringing Lindholm Back.

LANSING, Sept. 18.—A cablegram has been received by Prosecuting Attorney Gardner from Deputy Sheriff Wright, who was sent to Sweden to bring back ex-Deputy Secretary of State Lindholm, who is charged with embezzling state funds, stating that he would leave Southampton with his prisoner next Saturday.

Railway Station Robbed.

SOUTH BEND, Sept. 18.—Three men entered the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern railroad station at Bronson, Mich., and bound and gagged T. L. Warne, the agent. The safe was then pillaged, but it is believed the robbers secured but little. Warne lost all his money and a gold watch. The robbers did not molest the ticket case.

Found in the River.

DETROIT, Sept. 18.—Amiel Deront's body was pulled from the Detroit river by the harbor master Monday. It is believed that he was murdered for money.

Burglars at Marlette.

MARLETTE, Sept. 15.—Burglars broke into the Marlette Mercantile company's store and stole $1,200 worth of notes besides $50 in cash.

MOTHERS

and those about to become mothers, should know that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures childbearing of its tortures, terrors and dangers to both mother and child, by aiding Nature in preparing the system for parturition. Thereby "labor" and also the period of confinement are greatly shortened. It also promotes an abundant secretion of nourishment for the child. During pregnancy, it prevents "morning sickness" and those distressing nervous symptoms from which so many suffer.

Tanks, Cattle Co., Texas.

DR. R. V. PIERCE, Buffalo, N. Y.:
Dear Sir—I took your "Favorite Prescription" previous to confinement and never did so well in my life. It is only two weeks since my confinement and I am able to do my work. I feel stronger than I ever did in six weeks before.

Yours truly,

Borden Culpepper

A MOTHER'S EXPERIENCE.

South Bend, Pacific Co., Wash.

DR. R. V. PIERCE, Buffalo, N. Y.:
Dear Sir—I began taking your "Favorite Prescription" the first month of pregnancy, and have continued taking it since confinement. I did not experience the nausea or any of the ailments due to pregnancy, after I began taking your "Prescription." I was only in labor a short time, and the physician said I got along unusually well.

We think it saved me a great deal of suffering. I was troubled a great deal with leucorrhoea also, and it has done a world of good for me.

Yours truly,

MRS. W. C. BAKER.

OUR NEIGHBORS.

Allegan County.

The Allegan Paper Co. threatens to move out of the village unless the citizens come down with a $5,000 bonus. The citizens say, let 'er go.

The Democratic county convention will be held at Allegan on Thursday, Sept. 27.

Douglas Record.—The yellows is raising sad havoc with the peach orchards in Hopkins. Henry Seabright will have to cut down about one-half of his young orchard of 4,000 trees, from which he has had only two crops. There are a number of other orchards similarly affected.

Gazette.—The county agricultural society have thought it best this year to exclude all speed horses outside of Allegan county, for the following reasons: First, that our country roadsters may have a chance to test their speed without coming in competition with the flyers that go from one end of the state to the other, picking up all the premiums offered by the several counties; and second, that we may be enabled to pay our premiums in full, rather than to pay outside parties our whole receipts, except about 25 per cent. of the resident premiums.

There seems to be some rivalry among peach-growers in the vicinity of Fennville as to which can draw the largest load to the fruit train. Last week Chester Peterson's team drew one load containing 657 fifth baskets, said to weigh 7,000 pounds, and another containing 572 fifth baskets. The same day, Tuesday, George Goodrich's team drew in 240 half-bushel baskets at one load, or what was claimed to be the equivalent of 600 fifth baskets.

Fennville Herald.—The apple crop in this belt will be quite large and it is believed that fairly good prices will be received, all kinds of evaporated and canned stock being entirely cleaned up throughout the country. However, the fact that the middle classes have no money to spend is the real cause for low prices in fruit this year. Shipments this week have averaged 20,000 baskets a night.

Andrew Bee, a veteran of the civil war, died Saturday at Martin. He was a member of Co. L, Fourth Michigan cavalry, and was instrumental in capturing Jeff Davis. He was the first one to recognize Davis when he emerged from the tent in disguise.

Lake Shore.

Charley Ogden has bought the old "Nichols estate," which lies 14 miles north of Ottawa Beach. He will commence work at once putting in crops, repairing, etc. It is a fine location for a fruit farm and we wish "Charley" success in his enterprise.

Saturday night, Sept. 15th there was a Populist rally at the Wittenveen school house. The speakers were James E. McBride, Populist candidate for Attorney General, and Josiah Tibbitts, a like candidate for Congress from this district. Quite a large number of mugwumps and dissatisfied Democrats congregated to hear the story of their wrongs from the Populist standpoint. The speakers told them that they were being sadly oppressed by a bloated aristocracy, and that the hard times were all caused by the rich grinding down the poor (many of the hearers didn't know they were oppressed before). They proposed remedies: Absolute free silver, free trade; government ownership of railroads, and Populist control of the government. Apparently however they were more anxious about getting control of the government than anything else. The ways of the Populist politician are peculiar, and all they want is a whack at the public crib.

Grand Haven.

Judge Padgham has dissolved the injunction restraining the city from extending its system of water works, and the work will be prosecuted with vigor from now on.

Tribune.—Every six months the county board of jail inspectors, visits, inspects and makes report of the condition of the county jail. This report is sent to the state board of correction and charities. Mr. C. L. Storrs, secretary of the board, writing to Judge Goodrich in reply to the last report, says we need a new jail here badly and recommends the circuit judge assigning prisoners to other jails, because of the horrible condition of ours.

Geo. Hancock & Son are now in the midst of their tomato canning and have 60 employees on the pay roll.

A great deal of marsh hay is being cut on the low lands at the head of Spring Lake.

The "Express," in urging our citizens to get a move on, says: If we do not want to be cast in the shade by our sister city of Holland, and be accounted an "old fog" city, we must wake up!

The circuit court re-convene Monday. John Zwiers, the young man that was sent up from Jamestown for illicit conduct, was sent to Ionia for eight months. The next case taken up was that of The People vs. Verhoeks, in which a good deal of local interest has been manifested. The respondent in this case, stands grouped in the minds of the community with a lot of other fellows that are "no good", and for a number of years back much criminal mischief, perpetrated in Grand Haven, has been charged to the Verhoeks gang. His escape from jail and recapture at Duluth gave him renewed notoriety, and added to the street excitement. This notoriety and excitement as the case was called in court, were made the basis for a motion for a change of venue, which motion was denied by the court and the trial proceeded with. It did not take long to exhaust the original panel and Sheriff Keppel was directed to proceed to the southern and eastern parts of the county to summon tailsmen. The trial proper commenced, Tuesday afternoon. W. I. Lillie and Geo. W. McBride defended Verhoeks and Geo. A. Farr assisted Pros. Atty Visscher. The case went to the jury Wednesday evening. They were out about half an hour, and brought in a verdict of guilty. The next morning Judge Padgham gave him ten years to Jackson, to which abode he was conveyed that same day.

The Trials of New Cadets at West Point.

New cadets must remain in their quarters most of the day, and in the evening from eight to half-past nine o'clock, at which later hour they are expected to be in bed. Cadet officers visit their rooms with lanterns to enforce regulations. This continual supervision by persons but little older than himself tries the new cadet's patience, as do the orders haughtily delivered with the sense of a little brief authority: he must "get his shoulders back," "dig in" his toes, "straighten out" his arms, "extend" his fingers, "turn his head to the right" or "left," "drag in" his chin, "wipe that smile off" his face, etc.

After two weeks of this preliminary training he is taken to camp, where he joins the battalion and goes to parades and drills with the company to which he is assigned, there being four among which the new cadets are evenly distributed; and now his real miseries begin. Aside from the persistent teasings of the older cadets, he is either drilling or cleaning guns or accoutrements, or perforce, amusing his tyrants. For instance, he is compelled to march up and down the company street, shouting: "I'm mad! I'm mad! I know I'm mad!" On another occasion, with six "plebes", he is made pall bearer at the funeral of a rat, while one of the company blows "taps," on a cornet, as at a real military interment.

The older cadets manage to "run in" cakes, lemonade, and other delectable things. The new cadet may, perhaps get a share, or may look on with watering mouth, unsatisfied. He has no money with which to contribute his share of these illicit pleasures. He has found that even every article of clothing that he is to wear must come from the cadet stores, that he must not expect to have anything else, that ever penny of cash he may have in his possession is regarded as contraband, and that if he should be discovered to have any he must turn it over to the proper authorities at once and without protest.

He must also remain in camp unless excused for some strictly necessary purpose, while the first class men may leave whenever off duty, on reporting at the guard tent. In camp his guard tours are two hours long, while in barracks they last but one hour. In barracks a guard of twenty-seven men is mounted each day, and is divided into three relief, each relief walking about an hour. A sentinel is posted in each division of the barracks to prevent visiting during study hours, and to perform the usual functions of a guard on duty.—From "Cadet Life at West Point," Demorest's Magazine for October.

TORTURING TURTLES.

How the Poor Reptiles Are Deprived of Their Shells.

"I never see any of the pretty articles made out of tortoise shell," said a citizen of Oakland, Cal., recently, "without thinking of the probable torture the poor turtles had been subjected to in order to procure the material for their manufacture. The natives in the West Indies lie in wait for the turtles as they come to the shore to deposit their eggs, then they catch them and turn them over on their backs, so that they are absolutely helpless. The operation of divesting these creatures of their shells is cruel in the extreme. The tortoise shell that we value is merely the scales that cover the bony shield of the turtle. These scales are thirteen in number, and a large turtle will furnish about eight pounds. In order to detach this shell from the living animal (for they don't want to kill them, as in that case they would be exterminated in a few years) they fasten him down, and then put dry leaves and grass under his back, to which they set fire. The heat causes the scales to separate at the joints. They then insert a large knife beneath them and lift the shell from the back. Many turtles die under the operation, but they have been known to be caught a second time with an outer coating reproduced, but in such cases there was only one piece, instead of thirteen.

MONEY CAUSES TROUBLE.

Many Fierce Hatreds Begin at the Reading of the Will.

Of all things, after jealousy, of which, indeed, it is part and parcel, the visible substance of the unseen feeling—money is the most potent factor in the creation of domestic rows. To see a set of expectant heirs all waiting on the reading of the will, and to note the disappointment of those who have not been well endowed, and their frantic jealousy and fiery anger against those who have, is to see an object lesson in human nature among the most saddening and degrading that exist.

By reason of those legacies all the former love is forgotten, and a hatred like to nothing so much as the fire of hell takes its place. Brothers and sisters glower at one another over the lump sum given to one and the small annuity doled out to another, with the thundering residuum that goes to perhaps the already richest member of the family, or the portion which creates the head out of one of the minor joints of the tail. How many affections have received their death blow by the side of that divided heap of money—where each legatee thought himself defrauded by all that the others had received, and where there were disappointed heads by as many as there were joints in the tail left in their natural condition.

It is an exceptional nature that can take coolly the disappointed expectation formed by vanity or cupidity of the legacy to come after such and such a death, writes Mrs. Lynn Linton, in the Queen. For, indeed, money is the touch-stone par excellence of character, and baser hopes do sometimes so often mingle in even with love where the lover is poor and the beloved is wealthy. Then comes the crash, and then follows the row; and flames burst out where the flowers once bloomed and the sweet waters once flowed.

HE WAS MOVING.

And for a Wonder His Belongings Did Not Crowd the Van.

A young man on the South side had two rooms in a flat building and had furnished them himself. He had all the comforts of a home—such as a folding bed, a dresser and a set of boxing gloves. His lease expired on May 1, and he had some other rooms engaged, but he required two weeks in which to screw up his courage to the moving point, says the Chicago Record.

He hired a brawny man to do the packing. The carpets, the bookcase and the other trunks, including two trunks, made a formidable showing, and when he telephoned the transfer company he said: "Send one of your largest wagons." Next morning early there was a rap at his door and the brawny man said: "The wagon is here."

Before anything was carried downstairs he went out in front just to assure himself that the wagon was large enough. He found that it was. It resembled a storage warehouse on wheels. It was as large as the Barnum cage in which travel the two hippopotami. The driver sat on the roof, away up in the air, and the horses were dwarfed into ponies. When the back doors were opened there yawned a cavernous interior in which two sets could have danced a quadrille. There was no doubt about it being large enough. After all the earthly possessions of the young man had been pushed into one corner, the captain of the van asked where the rest of the stuff was to be found.

"That's all," said the young man. "All! That's not enough for ballast. Why didn't you get a wheelbarrow?" "I didn't know they had any wagons so big," stammered the humiliated young man. His property did make a paltry showing. When he paid the bill he was sorry that he hadn't used a wheelbarrow.

BEAVERS NOT EXTINGUISHED.

Traces of the Busy Little Animals Found in the Adirondacks.

It has been supposed that beavers were long extinct in the Adirondacks, but fresh work by them has been found on the outlet of Lake Meacham, twenty-five miles south of Malone. This discovery has attracted a good deal of attention from the guides and hunters. Beavers feed on the bark of the birch, willow, alder and poplar, and it is their habit to lay by stores of food in the summer.

Guides who were fishing on Meacham outlet recently found sticks of poplar of varying length and diameter, from half an inch to an inch, cut almost as neatly at each end as if the work could have been done with the knife. It was unmistakably the work of beavers. It would add largely to the charm of the Adirondacks if beavers were again to establish themselves there and erect their strange habitations. The game laws now forbid the trapping or killing of these animals at any time of the year.

Original Phrasing.

There are many wonderful dialects in existence, says Harper's Magazine. One of these is what might be called the suburban domestic dialect; that used by servants in the rural communities in the daily routine of housework. Several examples have come to hand. A suburbanite was greeted, one morning, as he entered his dining-room, with this choice specimen: "Mr. J., the colt has friz the pipes. They're bust, and the cellar's all adfoant!" The same domestic, while at work in the hall adjoining the library where her employer was writing, thinking he might prefer not to witness the operation of polishing the door, entered the room, and said: "Mr. J., do you want the door cluz, or the curtains drow?"

A Superior People.

In China Ts'achow men are a superior race. They are the Chinese Four Hundred and native anatomy distinguishes them in an altogether unusual way. The surgeons say that while all other Chinamen have eight pieces of bone from the neck to the top of the head Ts'achow men are the proud possessors of nine.

A Confusing Clause.
A famous London will bequeathed "all my black and white horses" to a certain devisee. After the lawyers had wrangled to determine whether all the black horses and all the white ones were meant, or only the piebald, or black-and-white ones, a witness testified that all the horses of the dead man were mares, and the confusion was worse confounded.

Lived a Lifetime in Twelve Years.
The most remarkable instance of rapid growth was recorded by the French academy in 1729. It was a boy six years of age, five feet six inches in height. At the age of five his voice changed, at six his beard had grown, and he appeared a man of thirty. He possessed great physical strength, and could easily lift to his shoulders and carry bags of grain that weighed two hundred pounds. His decline was as rapid as his growth. At ten his hair and beard were gray; at ten he tottered in his walk, his teeth fell out and his hands became palsied; at twelve he died with every outward sign of extreme old age.
